Derived from the refined Pencil project. Orange #FF7605 · Obsidian #362F2B · white · ivory.
Use connected masters for new work. Earlier boards and explorations remain preserved.

Built for the people behind poultry.

Extracted from the refined Pencil project. One brand across public pages, jobs, applications and portals. Audience: experienced poultry catchers and drivers.

01 / Original Chicken-C

CatchingJobs.

Orange homepage

CatchingJobs.

White internal pages

Use original vector geometry. Keep the wordmark and Chicken-C together; preserve proportions and clear space. Orange terminal accent belongs on light surfaces. Illustrations never replace the logo.

02 / Brand palette

Orange #FF7605

Obsidian #362F2B

White #FFFFFF

Ivory #FFFDF0

Orange heroes and primary actions. White and ivory page surfaces. Obsidian headings and body. Supporting interface tokens: cj-muted, cj-border, cj-error and cj-success. Do not use legacy green, #FFCC00 or imported library palettes for the brand.

03 / Semantic pairings & contrast

Primary action

Obsidian / Orange · 4.91:1
AA body text

Page surface

Obsidian / Ivory · 12.86:1
AAA body text

White hero title

White / Flame · 3.84:1
Large bold text only

White on #FF7605 = 2.68:1: fails WCAG AA even for large text. Keep #FF7605 as the hero field; use Obsidian copy or a solid #E05500 title backing for white display text. White on Flame is not suitable for small labels. Obsidian on white = 13.14:1.

Use one primary action per decision. Controls are 48px high; keep every interactive hit area at least 44 × 44px. Hover uses Obsidian + white for primary actions. Keyboard focus: a 2px Obsidian ring with a 2px clear offset. Disabled examples are visual specifications; implementation must also prevent activation.

Checkbox labels share the full hit area. Tabs use selection fill and a persistent text label. In code, expose checked/selected state and keyboard support; selection should never depend on hover.

Status badges report a state; they are not buttons. Error feedback names the problem and next step. Success confirms only a completed action. In code, announce submission feedback and connect errors to their fields.

Illustration system

Two flat inks. No halo. Original Chicken-C stays separate.
Pickup leads the homepage; crew supports team/role content; payday supports the benefits section.
Use the connected native masters below. Keep full heads, feet and tails; never stretch or add shadows.
Minimum artwork widths: pickup 320px · crew 240px · payday 280px. At smaller sizes use the 32/64px icon family.

Friday payday · Benefit sections

Icons and motion

Use actual 32px or 64px native masters. One stroke family; keep contrast and optical size consistent.
Use compact icons for actions and metadata. Use the 26D scenes for storytelling at larger sizes.
Do not scale a full hero illustration down into a 32px icon.

One useful movement, then stillness

Controls: 160ms ease-out for state changes. Scene: up to650ms for a single decorative reveal.
Keep title contrast fields, copy and actions static and visible from the first frame.
No continuous loops. Never delay a job search or application to finish an animation.
Reduced motion: show the complete illustration immediately and disable decorative movement.
The canvas is a visual specification; keyboard interaction, announcements and focus management are implemented and tested in code.

CATCHINGJOBS / 26F / EMPLOYEE + OPERATIONS

One system beyond the homepage.

Employee tasks and administrative work share the brand foundation, with calm light surfaces, visible labels and restrained orange actions. These connected Pencil instances specify presentation, not API behaviour.

ACTIONABLE, CALM, CLEAR

Show the next task, its current state and the action needed. Keep document and personal-information areas on white surfaces. Illustrations support orientation; they should not compete with tasks or form labels.

Use the project shadcn/ui components for dashboards and authentication. Keep typography and brand tokens aligned with the public pages.

DESIGN SAMPLE DATA

Names, references, roles and locations in these specimens are placeholders. The metric dash represents unavailable example data, not zero. Verify actual values and permitted actions during implementation.

Use short labels, explicit status text and a stable reference. Avoid treating a status badge as an action.

Tables support scanning across records. Keep column meaning consistent, preserve headers and provide clear row actions. On narrow screens, retain essential fields in a stacked layout or a deliberately scrollable region; never shrink text to fit.

04 / Supporting pattern inventory

Navigation

Sidebar and mobile navigation organise employee and admin destinations. Expose the active destination with text and a visible state.

Dialogs and uploads

OTP, document upload and inspector dialogs belong to the existing project patterns. Preserve labels, dismiss controls and error messages when composing them.

Workflow and feedback

The existing application Kanban complements the table view. Empty, loading, unavailable and submission feedback patterns are catalogued in 26B and 26C.

Implementation guidance: keyboard access and visible focus for every action; labelled controls; recoverable errors; status text alongside colour; accessible dialog focus management. These requirements need implementation and testing beyond the static canvas.

Homepage hero masters

The homepage page boards use instances of these masters. Copy stays editable; illustration scenes stay connected to26D.
Desktop: 1440px · mobile:390px. Keep the title field static and the pickup scene clear of the copy.
For jobs/auth/operations use the lighter patterns in26C/26F; do not apply this marketing hero to task screens.
